Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds no change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND:	$6,148
IMPR.:	$19,247
TOTAL:	$25,395

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

ANALYSIS

The subject property is improved with a 1-story dwelling of frame construction containing 1,186 square feet of living area. The dwelling is 33 years old. Features of the home include a partial, finished basement, central air conditioning and a 2-car garage.

The appellant's appeal is based on unequal treatment in the assessment process. The appellant submitted information on three comparable properties described as 1-story frame dwellings that range in age from 33 to 35 years old. The comparable dwellings range in size from 1,140 to 1,620 square feet of living area. One of the comparables features a full, unfinished basement, and two are built on concrete slabs. Two of the comparables have central air conditioning and fireplaces. All three comparables feature 1 or 2-car garages. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $11.39 to $13.15 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment is $16.23[1] per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduction in the subject's improvement assessment.

[1] The appellant used the 2005 improvement assessment of $20,243 instead of the 2006 improvement assessment of $19,247. This resulted in an incorrect improvement assessment of $17.07 per square foot of living area, rather than the correct assessment of $16.23 per square foot of living area.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the subject's final assessment was disclosed. The board of review presented descriptions and assessment information on four comparable properties consisting of 1-story frame dwellings that range in age from 30 to 35 years old. The dwellings range in size from 1,071 to 1,206 square feet of living area. All comparables have full or partial, finished or unfinished basements, central air conditioning, and 1 or 2-car garages. Two of the comparables have fireplaces. These properties have improvement assessments ranging from $12.53 to $17.97 per square foot of living area. The board of review also disclosed that the subject was purchased in October 2005 for $300,000, and comparable #3 was purchased in March 2006 for $305,000. Comparable #3 is similar to the subject in all respects, and its improvement assessment of $15.95 is close to the subject's improvement assessment of $16.23. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The Board further finds a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The appellant contends unequal treatment in the subject's improvement assessment as the basis of the appeal. Taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d 1 (1989). After an analysis of the assessment data, the Board finds the appellant has not met this burden.

The Board finds comparable #3 submitted by the appellant and all four comparables submitted by the board of review were most similar to the subject in size, style, exterior construction, features and age. Due to their similarities to the subject, these comparables received the most weight in the Board's analysis. These comparables had improvement assessments that ranged from $12.53 to $17.97 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $16.23 per square foot of living area is within the range established by the most similar comparables. After considering adjustments and the differences in both parties' comparables when compared to the subject, the Board finds the subject's improvement assessment is equitable and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
