FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Brad Cutler
DOCKET NO.: 07-22855.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 14-29-302-183-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Brad Cutler, the appellant, by attorney Christopher G. Walsh, Jr. in Chicago and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds no change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND:	$ 16,338
IMPR.:	$ 128,352
TOTAL:	$ 144,690

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

ANALYSIS

The subject property is improved with a three-story single-family dwelling of masonry construction containing 3,711 square feet of living area. The dwelling is 15 years old. Features of the home include a slab foundation, central air conditioning, a fireplace, and a two-car attached garage.

The appellant's appeal is based on unequal treatment in the assessment process. The appellant submitted information on four comparable properties described as three-story frame or masonry single-family dwellings that range in age from seven to fifteen years old. The comparable dwellings range in size from 3,359 to 3,711 square feet of living area. Each comparable has central air conditioning and a fireplace, and three have two-car garages. Two dwellings have slab foundations; and two have full foundations, either finished or unfinished. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $27.39 to $33.23 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment is $34.59 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduction in the subject's improvement assessment.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the subject's final assessment was disclosed.

The board of review presented descriptions and assessment information on four comparable properties consisting of three-story masonry single-family dwellings that range in age from nine to fifteen years old. Three of the comparable properties are located on the same block as the subject property. The dwellings range in size from 3,486 to 3,760 square feet of living area. Each comparable has central air conditioning, one to three fireplaces, and a two-car garage. One dwelling has a full, finished basement, and the other three have slab foundations. These properties have improvement assessments ranging from $34.61 to $36.00 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The Board further finds a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The appellant contends unequal treatment in the subject's improvement assessment as the basis of the appeal. Taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d 1 (1989). After an analysis of the assessment data, the Board finds the appellant has not met this burden.

Both parties presented assessment data on a total of eight equity comparables. All of the comparables submitted by both parties were frame or masonry three-story single-family dwellings. However, the Board finds that the appellant's comparables numbered one and two and the comparables numbered one, two, and four by the board of review were the most similar to the subject in location and features. They were also very similar in age and size. These comparables had improvement assessments that ranged from $27.39 to $34.91 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $34.59 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by these comparables. After considering adjustments and the differences in both parties' comparables when compared to the subject, the Board finds the subject's improvement assessment is equitable and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
