FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Alexia Nicker-Pera
DOCKET NO.: 08-22806.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 05-18-403-040-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Alexia Nicker-Pera, the appellant, by attorney Mitchell L. Klein, of Schiller Klein PC in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds no change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND:	$ 38,322
IMPR.:	$ 71,044
TOTAL:	$ 109,366

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

ANALYSIS

The subject has 21,774 square feet of land which is improved with a 55 year old, one and one-half story, masonry, single-family dwelling. The appellant, via counsel, argued that the subject's square footage of living area is overstated, as well as unequal treatment in the assessment process of the subject's improvement as the bases of this appeal.

In support of the square footage claim, counsel submitted: an affidavit signed by the appellant indicating the subject contains 1,962 square feet of living area; a handwritten estimate of the area of each room in the subject dwelling; and a partial copy of a survey that is unsigned, undated and contains no clear square footage calculations.

In support of the equity argument, the appellant submitted descriptive and assessment information for three properties suggested as comparable to the subject. The comparables are described as one and one-half story, frame and masonry, single-family dwellings. Additionally, the comparables range: in age from 54 to 60 years; in size from 2,003 to 2,908 square feet of living area; and in improvement assessments from $28.65 to $34.20 per square foot of living area. The comparables also have various amenities. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduction in the subject's improvement assessment.

The Cook County Board of Review submitted its "Board of Review-Notes on Appeal," wherein the subject's improvement assessment of $71,044 was disclosed. In support of the subject's assessment, the board of review submitted descriptive and assessment information for four properties suggested as comparable to the subject. The comparables are described as one and one-half story, masonry or frame and masonry, single-family dwellings. Additionally, the comparables range: in age from 10 to 59 years; in size from 2,728 to 3,628 square feet of living area; and in improvement assessments from $28.64 to $29.62 per square foot of living area. The comparables also have several amenities. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's improvement assessment.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board (the "Board") finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal.

As to the ancillary issue of improvement size, the Board finds that the best evidence was submitted by the county. Their printout reflects that the subject contains 2,855 square feet of living area. Additionally, the appellant failed to submit any clear square footage evidence, as the survey is incomplete, undated and unsigned, while the handwritten breakdown of each room's square footage reflects unauthenticated interior measurements. Therefore, the Board finds that the subject contains 2,855 square feet, which equates to an improvement assessment of $24.88 per square foot of living area.

The appellant also contends unequal treatment in the subject's improvement assessment as the basis of this appeal. Taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Walsh v. Prop. Tax Appeal Bd., 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998) (citing Kankakee Cnty. Bd. of Review v. Prop. Tax Appeal Bd., 131 Ill. 2d 1 (1989)); 86 Ill. Admin. Code § 1910.63(e). To succeed in an appeal based on lack of uniformity, the appellant must submit documentation "showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property." Cook Cnty. Bd. of Review v. Prop. Tax Appeal Bd., 403 Ill. App. 3d 139, 145 (1st Dist. 2010); 86 Ill Admin. Code § 1910.65(b). "[T]he critical consideration is not the number of allegedly similar properties, but whether they are in fact 'comparable' to the subject property." Cook Cnty. Bd. of Review v. Prop. Tax Appeal Bd., 403 Ill. App. 3d at 145 (citing DuPage Cnty. Bd. of Review v. Prop. Tax Appeal Bd., 284 Ill. App. 3d 649, 654-55 (2d Dist. 1996)). After an analysis of the assessment data, the Board finds that the appellant has not met this burden.

The Board finds that comparables #2, and #3 submitted by the appellant and comparables #1, #3, and #4 submitted by the board of review were most similar to the subject in location, size, style, exterior construction, features, and/or age. Due to their similarities to the subject, these comparables received the most weight in the Board's analysis. These comparables had improvement assessments that ranged from $28.65 to $30.47 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $24.88 per square foot of living area is below the range established by the most similar comparables. Therefore, after considering adjustments and differences in both parties' comparables when compared to the subject, the Board finds that the subject's improvement assessment is equitable, and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
