DOCKET NO.: 08-30162.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 22-24-105-016-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Daniel & Federico Vera, the appellants, by attorney Christopher G. Walsh, Jr. in Chicago, and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds no change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND:	$ 18,300
IMPR.:	$ 100,364
TOTAL:	$ 118,664

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

ANALYSIS

The subject property is improved with a two-story dwelling of masonry construction containing 6,936 square feet of living area. The dwelling is ten years old. Features of the home include a full unfinished basement, central air conditioning, a fireplace, and a four-car attached garage. The subject is classified as a class 2-09 residential property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance and is located in Lemont, Lemont Township, Cook County.

The appellants' appeal is based on unequal treatment in the assessment process. The appellants submitted information on four comparable properties described as two-story masonry or frame and masonry dwellings that have the same assigned neighborhood code as the subject. The comparable dwellings range in age from four to twenty-eight years old, and they range in size from 6,704 to 7,419 square feet of living area. One comparable has a full unfinished basement, and three have finished basements, either full or partial. Each comparable has central air conditioning, one to four fireplaces, and an attached garage. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $10.71 to $12.36 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment is $14.47 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the appellants requested that the subject's improvement assessment be reduced to $81,914 or $11.81 per square foot of living area.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the subject's final assessment was disclosed. The board of review presented descriptions and assessment information on three comparable properties consisting of two-story masonry dwellings that have the same assigned neighborhood and classification codes as the subject. Two of the comparables are located on the same block as the subject. The dwellings are either seven or twelve years old, and they range in size from 5,632 to 6,090 square feet of living area. One comparable has a full unfinished basement, and two have finished basements, either full or partial. Each comparable has central air conditioning, two fireplaces, and an attached garage. These properties have improvement assessments ranging from $15.55 to $16.42 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The Board further finds a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The appellants contend unequal treatment in the subject's improvement assessment as the basis of the appeal. Taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d 1 (1989). After an analysis of the assessment data, the Board finds the appellants have not met this burden.

Both parties presented assessment data on a total of seven equity comparables. None of the comparables submitted was similar to the subject in all respects. The appellants' comparables #1 and #3 were over 20 years older than the subject, and comparables #2 through #4 had frame and masonry exterior construction. As a result, the appellants' comparables received reduced weight in the Board's analysis. The Board finds the board of review's comparables, despite being smaller in living area, were very similar to the subject in age, design, and exterior construction. In addition, the board of review's comparables #2 and #3 were located in the same block as the subject. Due to their similarities to the subject, the board of review's comparables received the most weight in the Board's analysis. These comparables had improvement assessments that ranged from $15.55 to $16.42 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $14.47 per square foot of living area falls below the range established by the most similar comparables. After considering adjustments and the differences in both parties' comparables when compared to the subject, the Board finds the subject's improvement assessment is equitable and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
