

PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD'S DECISION

APPELLANT: Glenn Rawski
DOCKET NO.: 01-23263.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 12-16-311-084-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Glenn Rawski, the appellant, by attorney, by attorney Patrick J. Cullerton of Thompson Coburn Fagel/Haber, Chicago, and the Cook County Board of Review.

The subject property consists of a nine-year-old, one-story style single-family dwelling of frame construction containing 2,005 square feet of living area and located in Leyden Township, Cook County. Amenities include one full bath, one half-bath, air conditioning, and a two-car garage.

The appellant, through counsel, submitted evidence before the Property Tax Appeal Board claiming unequal treatment in the assessment process as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument, the appellant offered a spreadsheet detailing nine suggested comparable properties located in the same coded assessment neighborhood as the subject. These properties consist of one-story or one and one-half story style single-family dwellings of frame construction from 40 to 76 years old. The comparable dwellings contain one or two full baths; six have additional half-baths, seven have basements; three have air conditioning; and four have fireplaces. The comparables range in size from 1,828 to 2,488 square feet of living area and have improvement assessments ranging from $5.02 to $7.09 per square foot of living area. A copy of the subject's 2001 board of review final decision was also included. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduction in the subject's improvement assessment.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the subject's final improvement assessment of $17,907, or $8.93 per square foot of living area, was disclosed.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds no change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND:	$	6,022
IMPR.:	$	17,907
TOTAL:	$	23,929

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

In support of the subject's assessment, the board of review offered property characteristic sheets and a spreadsheet detailing four suggested comparable properties located within one block of the subject. The comparables consist of one-story style single-family dwellings of masonry construction. The comparables contain one or two full baths, basements, and air conditioning; three have fireplaces and three have garages. These properties range in size from 1,500 to 2,100 square feet of living area and have improvement assessments ranging from $9.75 to $11.57 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject property's assessment.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The appellant's argument was unequal treatment in the assessment process. The Illinois Supreme Court has held that taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d 1 (1989). The evidence must demonstrate a consistent pattern of assessment inequities within the assessment jurisdiction. After an analysis of the assessment data, the Board finds the appellant has failed to overcome this burden.

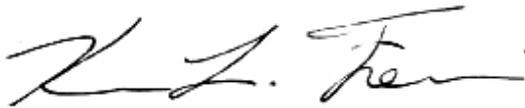

The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that the parties submitted 13 properties as comparable to the subject. The Board places diminished weight on the appellant's comparables primarily due to the great age discrepancy between the comparables and the subject. The Board accords substantial weight to the board of review's comparables. Of these properties, the Board finds that the board's comparables one and two are the most similar when compared to the subject. After considering adjustments and the differences in both parties' suggested comparables when compared to the subject property, the Board finds the subject's per square foot improvement assessment is supported by the properties contained in the record.

As a result of this analysis, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds the appellant failed to adequately demonstrate that the subject dwelling was inequitably assessed by clear and convincing evidence and no reduction is warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
