

PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD'S DECISION

APPELLANT: Kevin Pranica
DOCKET NO.: 04-25733.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 12-01-111-045-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Kevin Pranica, the appellant, by attorney Rusty A. Payton of the Law Offices of Rusty A. Payton, P.C., Chicago, Illinois; and the Cook County Board of Review.

The subject property is an 89-year old, one-story masonry dwelling containing 1,166 square feet of living area with a partial, unfinished basement and a two-car garage.

The appellant submitted evidence before the Property Tax Appeal Board claiming unequal treatment in the assessment process as the basis of the appeal. In support of the equity argument, the appellant submitted a grid analysis detailing four suggested comparable properties. On the appellant's map, three of the comparables are located near the subject, and one is located approximately one-half mile from the subject. According to the appellant's grid analysis, the comparables are one-story or one and one-half story frame and masonry or masonry dwellings that are 42 to 56 years old. Three comparables have unfinished basements, and one has a full basement. One comparable has central air conditioning. The dwellings have living areas that contain 997 to 1,422 square feet, and their improvement assessments range from $9.82 to $13.18 per square foot. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $17.19 per square foot. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduction in the subject's improvement assessment.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the subject's assessment was disclosed. In support of the subject's assessment, the board of review offered property characteristic sheets and a spreadsheet detailing three suggested comparable properties that are located in the same tax

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds no change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND:	$	6,864
IMPR.:	$	20,042
TOTAL:	$	26,906

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

block as the subject. The comparables are one-story or one and one-half story masonry dwellings that are 39 to 62 years old. Two comparables have full, unfinished basements, and one does not have a basement. One comparable has central air conditioning and a fireplace, and each comparable has a garage, either one-car or two-car. The dwellings have living areas that contain 1,104 to 1,339 square feet, and improvement assessments that range from $17.62 to $18.83 per square foot. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The Property Tax Appeal Board further finds that a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted. The appellant's argument was unequal treatment in the assessment process. The Illinois Supreme Court has held that taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d 1 (1989). The evidence must demonstrate a consistent pattern of assessment inequities within the assessment jurisdiction. After an analysis of the assessment data, the Board finds the appellant has not overcome this burden.

Both parties presented assessment data on a total of seven equity comparables. All of the comparables differed significantly from the subject in age. The appellant's comparables one, two, and three and the board of review's comparable two differed in design from the subject and received reduced weight in the Board's analysis. The appellant's comparable four was similar to the subject in most physical characteristics, but the board of review's comparables one and three were more similar in location and most physical characteristics. Located in the same tax block as the subject, these comparables had improvement assessments of $18.05 and $18.83 per square foot that support the subject's improvement assessment of $17.19 per square foot. After considering adjustments and the differences in both parties' suggested comparables when compared to the subject property, the Board finds the subject's per square foot improvement assessment is supported by the most comparable properties contained in the record, and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

As a result of this analysis, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds the appellant has not adequately demonstrated that the subject dwelling was inequitably assessed by clear and convincing evidence, and a reduction is not warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
