

PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD'S DECISION

APPELLANT: Nino & Linda Rinella
DOCKET NO.: 04-25762.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 05-31-110-010-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Nino & Linda Rinella, the appellants, by attorney Rusty A. Payton of the Law Offices of Rusty A. Payton, P.C., Chicago, Illinois; and the Cook County Board of Review.

The subject property is a 47-year old, multi-level frame and masonry dwelling containing 1,850 square feet of living area with a partial, finished basement, central air conditioning, a fireplace, and a two and one-half car garage.

The appellants submitted evidence before the Property Tax Appeal Board claiming unequal treatment in the assessment process as the basis of their appeal. In support of the equity argument, the appellants submitted a grid analysis detailing four suggested comparable properties. Seven comparables were plotted on the appellant's map, but only four were included on the grid analysis. On the appellant's map, three of the four comparables are located in close proximity of the subject, and the other comparable is located approximately one-quarter mile from the subject. According to the appellants' grid analysis, the comparables are multi-level frame and masonry dwellings that are 39 to 49 years old. Three comparables have partial basements, and one has a full basement. Two comparables have central air conditioning, and three have fireplaces. The dwellings have living areas that contain 1,422 to 2,110 square feet, and their improvement assessments range from $12.74 to $14.25 per square foot. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $17.56 per square foot. Based on this evidence, the appellants requested a reduction in the subject's improvement assessment.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the subject's assessment was disclosed. In support of the subject's assessment, the board of review offered property characteristic sheets and a spreadsheet detailing three suggested comparable properties that are located in the same tax block as the subject. The comparables are multi-level frame and masonry dwellings that are 47 or 48 years old. Each has a partial, finished basement and central air conditioning. One comparable has two fireplaces, and two comparables have garages, either two-car or two and one-half car. The dwellings have 1,402 to 1,897 square feet of living area, and improvement assessments ranging from $17.79 to $19.32 per square foot. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds no change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The Property Tax Appeal Board further finds that a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted. The appellants' argument was unequal treatment in the assessment process. The Illinois Supreme Court has held that taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d 1 (1989). The evidence must demonstrate a consistent pattern of assessment inequities within the assessment jurisdiction. After an analysis of the assessment data, the Board finds the appellants have not overcome this burden.

Both parties presented assessment data on a total of seven equity comparables. Although the appellants' comparables were similar to the subject in age and physical characteristics, the board of review's comparables were the most similar to the subject in age, location, and physical characteristics. Located in the same tax block as the subject, these comparables had improvement assessments of $17.79 to $19.32 per square foot that support the subject's improvement assessment of $17.56 per square foot. After considering adjustments and the differences in both parties' suggested comparables when compared to the subject property, the Board finds the subject's per square foot improvement assessment is supported by the most comparable properties contained in the record, and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

As a result of this analysis, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds the appellants have not adequately demonstrated that the subject dwelling was inequitably assessed by clear and convincing evidence, and a reduction is not warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
