

PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD'S DECISION

APPELLANT: Nejd Alsikafi
DOCKET NO.: 05-20242.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 15-01-213-014-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Nejd Alsikafi, the appellant, by attorney Rusty A. Payton of the Law Offices of Rusty A. Payton, P.C., Chicago, Illinois; and the Cook County Board of Review.

The subject property is a 71-year old, two-story stucco dwelling containing 3,124 square feet of living area with a full, unfinished basement, central air conditioning, three fireplaces, and a two-car garage.

The appellant submitted evidence before the Property Tax Appeal Board claiming unequal treatment in the assessment process as the basis of the appeal. In support of the equity argument, the appellant submitted a grid analysis detailing three suggested comparable properties. On the appellant's map, one of the comparables is located two blocks from the subject, and the others are located approximately one-half mile from the subject. The comparables are two-story masonry or stucco dwellings that are 82 or 85 years old. Two of the comparables have unfinished basements, and one has a partial basement. One comparable has central air conditioning, and two have fireplaces. The dwellings have living areas that contain 2,820 to 3,680 square feet, and their improvement assessments range from $12.09 to $19.84 per square foot. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $23.46 per square foot. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduction in the subject's improvement assessment.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the subject's assessment was disclosed. In support of the subject's assessment, the board of review offered property characteristic sheets and a spreadsheet detailing three suggested comparable properties that are located approximately

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds no change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is: one-half mile from the subject. The comparables are two-story masonry dwellings that are 66 to 85 years old. Each of the comparables has a full, unfinished basement, one or two fireplaces, and a garage, either two-car or three-car. One of the comparables has central air conditioning. The dwellings have living areas that contain 2,771 to 3,728 square feet and improvement assessments of $23.51 to $26.34 per square foot. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

|--------|----|--------|
| LAND:  | $ | 12,032 |
| IMPR.: | $ | 73,293 |

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The Property Tax Appeal Board further finds that a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted. The appellant's argument was unequal treatment in the assessment process. The Illinois Supreme Court has held that taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d 1 (1989). The evidence must demonstrate a consistent pattern of assessment inequities within the assessment jurisdiction. After an analysis of the assessment data, the Board finds the appellant has not overcome this burden.

Both parties presented assessment data on a total of six equity comparables. The appellant's comparables differed considerably in age from the subject; comparables one and three also differed in location; and comparables one and two also differed in exterior construction from the subject. The board of review's comparables differed considerably in location and exterior construction from the subject; and comparable one also differed in age. As a result, none of the comparables was truly similar to the subject property in age, location, and physical characteristics to provide clear and convincing evidence that the property was inequitably assessed. However, the Board notes that all comparables had improvement assessments ranging from $12.09 to $26.34 per square foot. The subject's $23.46 per square foot improvement assessment is within that range and appears to be supported after considering differences in physical and location attributes.

As a result of this analysis, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds the appellant has not adequately demonstrated that the subject dwelling was inequitably assessed by clear and convincing evidence, and a reduction is not warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
