

PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD'S DECISION

APPELLANT: Jozef Galica
DOCKET NO.: 05-23776.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 24-04-116-006-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Jozef Galica, the appellant, by attorney Rusty A. Payton of the Law Offices of Rusty A. Payton, P.C., Chicago, Illinois; and the Cook County Board of Review.

The subject property consists of a 54-year old, one and one-half story dwelling of frame and masonry construction containing 1,209 square feet of living area with a crawl space foundation and a one car garage.

The appellant submitted evidence before the Property Tax Appeal Board claiming unequal treatment in the assessment process as the basis of the appeal. In support of the equity argument, the appellant submitted a grid analysis detailing three suggested comparable properties. The appellant's map indicates one comparable is located in close proximity to the subject and two comparables are located one-half to three-quarters of a mile from the subject. The comparables are one-story or one and one-half story frame or frame and masonry dwellings that are 50 to 54 years old with no basements. One comparable has central air conditioning. Their living areas are from 1,203 to 1,496 square feet in size, and have improvement assessments of $7.75 to $8.91 per square foot. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $11.93 per square foot. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduction in the subject's improvement assessment.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the subject's final assessment was disclosed. In support of the subject's assessment, the board of review offered the property characteristic sheets and a spreadsheet detailing two suggested comparable properties located one block from the subject. The comparable properties consist of one and one-half story frame or frame and masonry dwellings that are 48 or 54

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds no change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

IMPR.:	$14,423

years old with full, unfinished basements. One comparable has a two car garage and one comparable has a one and one-half car garage. One comparable has a fireplace. The dwellings contain 1,175 or 1,370 square feet of living area and have improvement assessments of $12.23 or $13.88 per square foot. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The Property Tax Appeal Board further finds that a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted. The appellant's argument was unequal treatment in the assessment process. The Illinois Supreme Court has held that taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d 1 (1989). The evidence must demonstrate a consistent pattern of assessment inequities within the assessment jurisdiction. After an analysis of the assessment data, the Board finds the appellant has not overcome this burden.

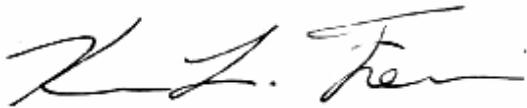

Both parties presented assessment data on a total of five equity comparables. The appellant's comparables one and two differed from the subject in design and were located one-half to three-quarters of a mile from the subject. Comparables one and three differed from the subject in exterior construction. Comparable three was larger than the subject. The board of review's comparables also differed from the subject in foundation. As a result, none of the comparables was truly similar to the subject in physical characteristics to provide clear and convincing evidence that the property was inequitably assessed. However, the Board notes that all comparables had improvement assessments ranging from $7.75 to $13.88 per square foot. The subject's improvement assessment of $11.93 per square foot is within that range and appears to be supported after considering differences in physical and location attributes.

As a result of this analysis, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds the appellant has not adequately demonstrated that the subject dwelling was inequitably assessed by clear and convincing evidence and a reduction is not warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
