

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Stephen L. Novak
DOCKET NO.: 07-02139.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 07-10-103-015

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Stephen L. Novak, the appellant; and the Lake County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds no change in the assessment of the property as established by the Lake County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $27,349
IMPR.: $111,347
TOTAL: $138,696

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

ANALYSIS

The subject property consists of an eight year-old, two-story style frame dwelling that contains 2,424 square feet of living area. Features of the home include central air conditioning, a 703 square foot garage and a full basement with 577 square feet of finished area.

The appellant appeared before the Property Tax Appeal Board claiming unequal treatment in the assessment process regarding the subject's improvements as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted a grid analysis of three comparable properties located in the subject's subdivision. The comparables consist of two-story style brick and frame dwellings that are eight years old and range in size from 3,116 to 3,338 square feet of living area. Features of the comparables include central air conditioning, a fireplace, garages that contain 662 or 672 square feet of building area and full or partial unfinished basements. These properties have improvement assessments ranging from $106,938 to $114,290 or from $34.24 to $34.35 per square foot of living area. The subject has an improvement assessment of $111,347 or $45.94 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested the subject's improvement assessment be reduced to $103,636 or $42.75 per square foot of living area.

The board of review submitted its Board of Review Notes on Appeal wherein the subject's total assessment of $138,696 was disclosed. In support of the subject's assessment, the board of review submitted property record cards and a grid analysis of four comparable properties. The comparables consist of two-story style frame dwellings that are eight years old and range in size from 2,358 to 2,478 square feet of living area. Features of the comparables include central air conditioning, a fireplace, garages that contain from 483 to 863 square feet of building area and full basements, three of which had finished areas ranging from 500 to 1,080 square feet. These properties have improvement assessments ranging from $108,552 to $115,932 or from $46.04 to $46.86 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested the subject's assessment be confirmed.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The Property Tax Appeal Board further finds that a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted. The appellant's argument was unequal treatment in the assessment process. The Illinois Supreme Court has held that taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d 1 (1989). The evidence must demonstrate a consistent pattern of assessment inequities within the assessment jurisdiction. After an analysis of the assessment data, the Board finds the appellant has not overcome this burden.

The Board finds the parties submitted seven comparables for its consideration. The Board gave less weight to the appellant's comparables because they were significantly larger in living area when compared to the subject. The board of review's comparables were similar to the subject in terms of style, age, exterior construction, size, features and location and had improvement assessments ranging from $46.04 to $46.86 per square foot of living area. The board of review's comparable 3 is virtually identical to the subject in most respects and is located very near the subject. The subject's improvement assessment of $45.94 falls below the range of the most representative comparables submitted by the parties. Therefore, the Board finds the evidence in the record supports the subject's assessment.

The constitutional provision for uniformity of taxation and valuation does not require mathematical equality. The requirement is satisfied if the intent is evident to adjust the burden with a reasonable degree of uniformity and if such is the effect of the statute enacted by the General Assembly establishing the method of assessing real property in its general operation. A practical uniformity, rather than an absolute one, is the test. Apex Motor Fuel Co. v. Barrett, 20 Ill.2d 395 (1960). Although the comparables presented by the parties disclosed that properties located in the same area are not assessed at identical levels, all that the constitution requires is a practical uniformity, which appears to exist on the basis of the evidence.

In conclusion, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds the appellant has failed to prove inequity by clear and convincing evidence and the subject's assessment as determined by the board of review is correct and no reduction is warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
