

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Eduardo Castaneda
DOCKET NO.: 07-21199.001-C-1 through 07-21199.011-C-1
PARCEL NO.: See Below

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Eduardo Castaneda, the appellant(s), by attorney Adam E. Bossov, of Law Offices of Adam E. Bossov, P.C. of Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds a reduction in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

ANALYSIS

The subject property consists of a 61-year-old, one-story with partial basement, masonry constructed, average condition, restaurant building containing a gross building area of 13,635 square feet with an above grade building area of 10,135 square feet. The improvement is situated on a 43,346 square foot site zoned C-2, General Commercial with a 3.18:1 land to building ratio. The subject property commonly known as LaLo's Restaurant is located in Berwyn, Illinois.

The appellant, through counsel, submitted evidence before the Property Tax Appeal Board claiming that the fair market value of the subject is not accurately reflected in its assessed value.

In support of this argument, the appellant submitted a copy of a complete appraisal report prepared by a State of Illinois certified real estate appraiser. The appraisal disclosed that the appraiser made a personal inspection of the subject property and that the appraiser determined the subject's highest and best use to be its current use. The appraiser utilized the three traditional approaches to value to estimate a market value of $690,000 for the subject as of January 1, 2005.

In the cost approach to value, the appraiser reviewed the sales of six comparables located within the subject's market area. After considering adjustments for market conditions, size, location and zoning, the appraiser opined a value for the subject's land, if vacant, of $6.12 per square foot or $255 per front foot or $266,504 per acre, or $265,000, rounded. Using the Marshall & Swift/Boeckh's Services to estimate replacement cost, the appraiser estimated a replacement cost new for the subject of $1,048,345. Accrued depreciation from all causes was estimated to be 61%, or $639,491, and deducted from the estimated replacement cost. A cost of $25,500 for other site improvements was added to the depreciated cost of the main improvement, as was the land value of $265,000. Thus, the appraiser determined a market value for the subject via the cost approach of $700,000 rounded, as of January 1, 2005.

The next method employed by the appraiser was the income capitalization approach. Rental data from four properties located in the subject's general area were used as the basis of this approach. After considering the current market and economic rents for similar space in the subject's market area, the appraiser arrived at a gross rent of $14.00 per square foot of building area. Thus, the potential gross income (PGI) was estimated to be $141,890. Based on current vacancy levels in the market, the appraiser estimated a 3% vacancy and collection loss rate, resulting in an effective gross income of $137,633. The next step taken by the appraiser was the deduction of expenses totaling $82,463 as well as reserves for replacement of $688, resulting in a net operating income (NOI) of $54,482 for the subject. The appraiser then researched the market utilizing the band of investment technique to determine an overall capitalization rate of 8.73% for the subject. Applying the capitalization rate to the NOI resulted in a value estimate for the subject through the income approach of $624,000 rounded, as of January 1, 2005.

Next, the appraiser examined the sales of five, one-story or two-story, masonry constructed, restaurant buildings ranging in age from 11 to 49 years old to estimate a value for the subject through the sales comparison approach. One comparable is located in Cicero; three comparables are located in Berwyn and one comparable is located in Chicago, Illinois. With land areas ranging in size from 3,125 to 88,813 square feet and building sizes ranging from 2,000 to 40,700 square feet, the comparables have land to building ratios ranging from .52:1 to 5.73:1. The comparables sold between March 2002 and May 2005 for prices ranging from $185,000 to $1,800,000 or from $23.61 to $92.50 per square foot of building area, including land. After making adjustments for condition of sale, time, location, size, land to building ratio and zoning; the appraiser concluded a value for the subject via the sales comparison approach of $50.86 per square foot of building area, including land, or $690,000, rounded as of January 1, 2005.

In reconciling the three approaches to value, the appraiser considered the sales comparison approach to be the most relevant and representative and accorded the most weight. The appraiser's final estimate of fair market value for the subject was $690,000, as of January 1, 2005. Based on the evidence submitted, the appellant requested an assessment reflective of a fair market value for the subject of $690,000.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the subject's total combined assessment of $300,508 which reflects a market value of $790,810, or $58.00 per square foot of building area, utilizing the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance level of assessment of 38% for Class 5a property, such as the subject. As evidence, the board of review submitted four sales with an unadjusted range of from $34.17 to $82.71 per square foot of building area, including land. No analysis or adjustment of the sales data was provided by the board. Based on the evidence presented, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

In rebuttal, the appellant submitted a two-page brief arguing that included in the board's documentation is evidence of four alleged comparable sales that, by the board of review's own admission are not "adjusted for market conditions, time, location, age, size, land to building ratio, parking, zoning and other related factors."

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal.

The appellant contends the market value of the subject property is not accurately reflected in its assessed valuation. When market value is the basis of the appeal the value of the property must be proved by a preponderance of the evidence. National City Bank of Michigan/Illinois v. Illinois Property Tax Appeal Board, 331 Ill.App.3d 1038 (3rd Dist, 2002); Winnebago County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 313 Ill.App.3d 179 (2nd Dist. 2000). Proof of market value may consist of an appraisal, a recent arms-length sale of the subject property, recent sales of comparable properties, or recent construction costs of the subject property. (86 Ill.Adm.Code §1910.65(c)). Having considered the evidence, the Board finds the appellant has satisfied this burden and a reduction is warranted.

In determining the fair market value of the subject property, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds the best evidence to be the appellant's complete appraisal report. The appellant's appraiser utilized the three traditional approaches to value to estimate the fair market value of the subject. The Board finds this appraisal to be persuasive for the appraiser; has experience in appraising; personally inspected the subject property and reviewed the subject's history; utilized appropriate market data in undertaking the three approaches to value; and lastly, used similar properties in the sales comparison approach while providing sufficient detail regarding each sale as well as adjustments that were necessary. The Board gives little weight to the board of review's comparables as the information provided was raw sales data with no adjustments made.

Therefore, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that the subject had a fair market value of $690,000 as of January 1, 2007. Since fair market value has been established, the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance level of assessment for Class 5a property of 38% shall apply. In applying this level of assessment to the subject, the total combined assessed value is $262,200, while the subject's current total combined assessed value is above this amount at $300,508. Therefore, the Board finds that a reduction is warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
