

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: David Cienkus
DOCKET NO.: 07-25858.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 09-34-212-024-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are David Cienkus, the appellant, by attorney Adam E. Bossov, of the Law Offices of Adam E. Bossov, P.C. in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds no change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $ 15,594
IMPR.: $ 40,488
TOTAL: $ 56,082

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

ANALYSIS

The subject property is improved with a one-story dwelling of masonry construction. The dwelling is 58 years old and contains 1,388 square feet of living area. Features of the home include a partial finished basement, central air conditioning, two fireplaces, and a two-car attached garage. The subject is classified as a class 2-03 residential property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance and is located in Park Ridge, Maine Township, Cook County.

The appellant's appeal is based on unequal treatment in the assessment process. The appellant submitted information on seven suggested comparable properties described as one-story dwellings of frame, masonry, or frame and masonry construction. The comparable properties have the same assigned classification and neighborhood codes as the subject. The comparables are said to be located from 0.31 to 1.2 miles from the subject property. The comparable dwellings are from 42 to 99 years old and contain from 1,385 to 1,735 square feet of living area. Two dwellings have crawl-space foundations; one has a partial finished basement; and four have full unfinished basements. Five comparables have garages; two have fireplaces; and one has central air conditioning. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $34,901 to $43,760 or from $23.59 to $26.83 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment is $40,488 or $29.17 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested that the subject's improvement assessment be reduced to $35,630 or $25.67 per square foot of living area.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the subject's final assessment of $56,082 was disclosed. The board of review presented descriptions and assessment information on four suggested comparable properties consisting of one-story dwellings of masonry construction. The comparable properties have the same assigned neighborhood and classification codes as the subject. The dwellings are from 50 to 52 years old and contain from 1,374 to 1,518 square feet of living area. Each comparable has a garage, central air conditioning, and a finished basement, either full or partial. These properties have improvement assessments ranging from $43,060 to $46,869 or from $30.61 to $31.34 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The Board further finds a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The appellant contends unequal treatment in the subject's improvement assessment as the basis of the appeal. Taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d 1 (1989). After an analysis of the assessment data, the Board finds the appellant has not met this burden.

Both parties presented assessment data on a total of 11 suggested comparables. The appellant's comparables #1 and #5 through #7 were significantly older than the subject; comparables #1 and #3 had crawl-space foundations that were dissimilar from the subject's partial finished basement; and comparables #2 through #4 were significantly larger in size. As a result, the appellant's comparables received reduced weight in the Board's analysis. The Board finds the comparables submitted by the board of review were very similar to the subject in age and size. Additionally, these comparables had masonry exterior construction and finished basements like the subject. Due to their similarities to the subject, these comparables received the most weight in the Board's analysis. These comparables had improvement assessments that ranged from $43,060 to $46,869 or from $30.61 to $31.34 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $40,488 or $29.17 per square foot of living area falls below the range established by the most similar comparables. After considering adjustments and the differences in both parties' comparables when compared to the subject, the Board finds the subject's improvement assessment is equitable and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The constitutional provision for uniformity of taxation and valuation does not require mathematical equality. The requirement is satisfied if the intent is evident to adjust the taxation burden with a reasonable degree of uniformity and if such is the effect of the statute enacted by the General Assembly establishing the method of assessing real property in its general operation. A practical uniformity, rather than an absolute one, is the test. Apex Motor Fuel Co. v. Barrett, 20 Ill. 2d 395 (1960). Although the comparables presented by the appellant disclosed that properties located in the same area are not assessed at identical levels, all that the constitution requires is a practical uniformity which appears to exist on the basis of the evidence. For the foregoing reasons, the Board finds that the appellant has not proven by clear and convincing evidence that the subject property is inequitably assessed. Therefore, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that the subject's assessment as established by the board of review is correct and no reduction is warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
