

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: John C. Hipchen
DOCKET NO.: 08-22011.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 02-22-216-004-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are John C. Hipchen, the appellant, by attorney Joseph G. Kusper, of Storino Ramello & Durkin in Rosemont; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds no change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $ 9,290
IMPR.: $ 22,091
TOTAL: $ 31,381

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

ANALYSIS

The subject property consists of a 52-year old, 1,144 square foot, one-story, masonry, single-family dwelling. Features include a one-and-one-half-car garage, a partial unfinished basement, and a fireplace. The subject property is situated on a 12,225 square foot lot.

The appellant submitted evidence before the Property Tax Appeal Board claiming unequal treatment in the assessment process as the basis of the appeal. In support of this claim, the appellant submitted information on three suggested comparable properties located within several blocks of the subject property. The suggested comparables are one-story, frame, single-family dwellings that range in age from 33 to 56 years old and range in size from 857 to 960 square feet of building area. These comparables have improvement assessments that range from $9.94 to $11.96 per square foot of building area. The subject's improvement assessment is $19.31 per square foot of building area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduction in the subject's improvement assessment.

In support of the subject's assessment, the board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the subject's final assessment of $31,381 was disclosed. The board of review presented descriptions and assessment information on four suggested comparable properties located in the same neighborhood code as the subject property. The suggested comparables consist of one-story, masonry, single-family dwellings that range in age from 52 to 60 years old and range in size from 1,073 to 1,204 square feet. Features include a one or two-car garage, a full or a partial basement, a fireplace and air conditioning. These properties have improvement assessments that range from $19.72 to $20.94 per square foot of building area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The Board further finds no reduction in the subject's assessment is warranted.

The appellant contends unequal treatment in the subject's improvement assessment as the basis of the appeal. Taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d 1 (1989). After an analysis of the assessment data, the Board finds the appellant has not met this burden.

The parties submitted seven suggested comparable properties for the Board's consideration. The Board finds that the suggested comparables submitted by the board of review are the most similar to the subject in age, size, exterior construction and design. These comparables had improvement assessments that ranged from $19.72 to $20.94 per square foot of building area. The subject's improvement assessment of $19.31 per square foot of building area is below the range established by the most similar comparables. After considering adjustments and the differences in both parties' comparables when compared to the subject, the Board finds the subject's improvement assessment is equitable and no reduction in the subject's assessment is warranted.

The constitutional provision for uniformity of taxation and valuation does not require a mathematical equality. A practical, rather than an absolute one, is the test. Apex Motor Fuel Co. v. Barrett, 20 Ill.2d. 395 (1960). Although the comparables presented by the parties disclosed that properties located in the same area are not assessed at identical levels, all the constitution requires is a practical uniformity which appears to exist on the basis of the evidence. For the foregoing reasons, the Board finds that the appellant has not proven by clear and convincing evidence that the subject property is inequitably assessed. Therefore, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that the subject's assessment as established by the board of review is correct and no reduction is warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
