ANALYSIS

The subject property consists of a 50,090 square foot parcel of land improved with a three-year old, one-story, masonry, industrial building containing 18,000 square feet of building area that is divided into seven condominium units. The appellant argued that the fair market value of the subject was not accurately reflected in its assessed value as the basis of the appeal.

In support of the market value argument, the appellant submitted an appraisal undertaken by David Conaghan. The report indicates Conaghan is a State of Illinois certified general real estate appraiser. The appraiser indicated the subject has an estimated market value of $685,000 as of January 1, 2008. The appraiser reviewed the history of the property and indicated that there have been sales of individual units, but that the appraisal values the whole building and individual sales would not be applicable.

The appraisal report utilized the three traditional approaches to value to estimate the market value for the subject property. The appraisal finds the subject's highest and best use is its current use.

Under the cost approach to value, the appraiser analyzed the sale of five properties to arrive at an estimate of value for the land at $2.50 per square foot or $125,000, rounded. The replacement cost new was utilized to determine a cost for the improvement at $990,000. The age/life method was used to depreciate the improvement by 40% for a value of $594,000. Site improvements of $5,000 and land were added back in to establish a value under the cost approach of $725,000, rounded.

In the income approach to value, the appraiser analyzed the rents of five properties to estimate potential gross income at $4.75 per square foot or $85,500. Vacancy and collection were estimated at 10% for an effective gross income of $76,950. Expenses were estimated at $16,747 to arrive at a net operating income of $60,203. The appraiser analyzed surveys and used the band of investment method to determine the capitalization rate of 9% to estimate a value under the income approach of $670,000, rounded.

Under the sales comparison approach, the appraisers analyzed the sales of five one-story, masonry industrial buildings located within the subject's market. The properties range in age from 19 to 34 years and in size from 15,326 to 29,132 square feet of building area. The comparables sold from February 2005 to February 2007 for prices ranging from $385,000 to $975,000, or from $18.88 to $34.09 per square foot of building area, including land. The appraiser adjusted each of the comparables for pertinent factors. Based on the similarities and differences of the comparables when compared to the subject, the appraiser estimated a value for the subject under the sales comparison approach of $38.00 per square foot of building area or $685,000, rounded.

In reconciling the three approaches to value, the appraisal gave maximum emphasis to the sales comparison which was supported by the income approach to arrive at a final estimate of value for the subject as of January 1, 2008 of $685,000.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the subject's final assessment of $319,437 was disclosed. The subject's final assessment reflects a fair market value of $887,325 when the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance level of assessment of 36% for Class 5b property is applied. The board also included a memo indicating that each unit in the subject building sold between February 2005 and August 2008 for prices ranging from $127,000 to $345,000 or a total sale price of the whole building of $1,209,500. In addition, the board submitted the record of deeds printouts and the trustee's deed to support the sales. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The Board further finds a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

When overvaluation is claimed the appellant has the burden of proving the value of the property by a preponderance of the evidence. National City Bank of Michigan/Illinois v. Illinois Property Tax Appeal Board, 331 Ill.App.3d 1038 (3rd Dist. 2002); Winnebago County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 313 Ill.App.3d 179 (2nd Dist. 2000). Proof of market value may consist of an appraisal, a recent arm's length sale of the subject property, recent sales of comparable properties, or recent construction costs of the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code 1910.65(c). Having considered the evidence presented, the PTAB concludes that the evidence indicates a reduction is warranted.

In determining the fair market value of the subject property, the PTAB finds the best evidence to be the appellant's appraisal. The appellant's appraisers utilized the three traditional approaches to value in determining the subject's market value. The PTAB finds this appraisal to be persuasive for the appraisers: have experience in appraising; personally inspected the subject property and reviewed the property's history; estimated a highest and best use for the subject property; utilized appropriate market data in undertaking the approaches to value; and lastly, used similar properties in the sales comparison approach while providing sufficient detail regarding each sale as well as adjustments that were necessary.

The PTAB gives less weight to the board of review's evidence as the documentation is the sale of each individual unit. The PTAB finds the appraisal persuasive in that the appraisal is valuing the building as a whole and the sales of each individual unit would not establish this value.

Therefore, the PTAB finds that the subject property had a market value of $685,000 for the 2008 assessment year. Since the market value of the subject has been established, the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance level of assessment of 36% for Class 5b property will apply. In applying this level of assessment to the subject, the total assessed value is $246,600 while the subject's current total assessed value is above this amount. Therefore, the PTAB finds that a reduction is warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
