

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Paul O'Connor
DOCKET NO.: 09-24816.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 12-02-300-085-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Paul O'Connor, the appellant, by attorney Christopher G. Walsh, Jr. in Chicago, and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds a reduction in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $1,395
IMPR: $18,895
TOTAL: $20,290

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

ANALYSIS

The subject property is improved with a two-story masonry townhouse. The dwelling is approximately 43 years old and contains 1,296 square feet of living area. Features of the home include a full finished basement and central air conditioning. The subject property has a 1,861 square foot site and is located in Park Ridge, Leyden Township, Cook County.

The appellant's appeal is based on overvaluation. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted evidence disclosing the subject property was purchased on January 11, 2010 for a price of $202,900 or $156.56 per square foot of living area, land included. The appellant completed Section IV - Recent Sale Data of the residential appeal form and disclosed that Federal Home Loan Mortgage was the seller; that the subject's sale was not a transfer between related parties; that a realtor handled the transaction; that the property was advertised for sale using the multiple listing service (MLS); and that the subject property was sold in settlement of a foreclosure. To further document the sale, the appellant submitted a copy of the Illinois Real Estate Transfer Declaration, PTAX-203, disclosing the subject property was purchased in January 2010 for a price of $202,900. On the transfer declaration, question #7 ("Was the property advertised for sale or sold using a real estate agent?") was marked "YES". The appellant also submitted a copy of the settlement statement, HUD-1, which revealed that commissions were paid to two realty firms. The appellant also submitted an affidavit, wherein the appellant stated that he had used the services of a real estate broker. The appellant also provided a copy of the subject property's MLS listing sheet. In a letter that accompanied the appeal, counsel stated the subject had a market value of $202,900 and the assessment should be calculated by applying the 10% ordinance level of assessment for Class 2 residential property in Cook County. Based on this record, the appellant requested the subject's assessment be reduced to $20,290.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein its final assessment of the subject totaling $25,617 was disclosed. The subject's assessment reflects a market value of $287,831 or $222.09 per square foot of living area, land included, using the 2009 three year average median level of assessments for class 2 property in Cook County of 8.90% as determined by the Illinois Department of Revenue. (86 Ill.Admin.Code 1910.50(c)(2)).

In support of the assessment, the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables, none of which were sales. The board of review's evidence made reference to the sale of the subject property in May 2006 for a price of $305,000. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The Board further finds a reduction in the subject's assessment is warranted.

The appellant contends the market value of the subject property is not accurately reflected in its assessed valuation. Fair cash value is defined in the Property Tax Code as "[t]he amount for which a property can be sold in the due course of business and trade, not under duress, between a willing buyer and a willing seller." (35 ILCS 200/1-50). The Supreme Court of Illinois has construed "fair cash value" to mean what the property would bring at a voluntary sale where the owner is ready, willing, and able to sell but not compelled to do so, and the buyer is ready, willing, and able to buy but not forced to do so to do. Springfield Marine Bank v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 44 Ill.2d 428 (1970). A contemporaneous sale between two parties dealing at arm's length is not only relevant to the question of fair cash value but practically conclusive on the issue on whether the assessment is reflective of market value. Korzen v. Belt Railway Co. of Chicago, 37 Ill.2d 158 (1967). When market value is the basis of the appeal the value of the property must be proved by a preponderance of the evidence. National City Bank of Michigan/Illinois v. Illinois Property Tax Appeal Board, 331 Ill.App.3d 1038 (3rd Dist. 2002); 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of market value may consist of an appraisal of the subject property, a recent sale, comparable sales or construction costs. (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(c)). The Board finds the appellant met this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of market value in the record is the sale of the subject property on January 11, 2010 for a price of $202,900. The appellant revealed that the subject's sale had many of the elements of an arm's length transaction. The evidence disclosed that the subject's sale was not a transfer between related parties; that a realtor handled the sale; and that the property was exposed to the open market when it was advertised for sale using the multiple listing service. On the transfer declaration, question #7 ("Was the property advertised for sale or sold using a real estate agent?") was marked "YES". The settlement statement revealed that commissions were paid to two realty firms. The subject property has an assessment of $25,617 that reflects a market value of $287,831. The Board finds the subject's purchase price is less than the market value reflected by the assessment.

The Board finds the board of review did not present any evidence to challenge the arm's length nature of the transaction or to refute the contention that the purchase price was reflective of market value. Although the board of review submitted four equity comparables, the Board gives no weight to the board of review's equity evidence as it is not responsive to the appellant's overvaluation argument.

Based on this record the Board finds the subject property had a market value of $202,900 as of January 1, 2009 and a reduction commensurate with the appellant's request is appropriate.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
